RUSSIAN DEMAND TO REWRITE PEACE TREATY REJECTED

Stinging Note From Ridgway Proposes New Site Be Named For Korean Peace Discussion

Tokyo, Sept. 6.—(P)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told the Reds in a stinging note today that if they want to end the shooting in Korea they should agree to start truce talks anew somewhere else.

The United Nations commander also brusquely told the Communists to stop their "constant deceit and treachery" in manufacturing incidents for "false and malevolent" charges against the Allies.

Almost simultaneously with delivery of Ridgway's sharp note, Chinese Communists launched a heavy, tank-supported attack on the western front. A front-line officer said it could be "a prelude to a major offensive."

The Red assault on the long inactive front was only 25 miles from Kaesong, site of the disrupted armistice negotiations.

Soviet-Built Tanks In Surprise Attack On Western Front

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 6.—(P)—An American unit was surrounded by thousands of tank-supported Chinese Reds on the western front today but fought its way free after an 18-hour battle.

American infantrymen and supporting armor said they killed more than 400 of the 3,000 attacking Chinese.

On the opposite end of the front North Korean Reds drove U. S. Marines back 400 yards on the northern edge of the punch bowl, 20 miles north of the 38th parallel. The Leathernecks counterattacked and regained the lost ground.

Chinese attacking on the long quiet western front, seven miles north of parallel 38 were supported by eight tanks. One intelligence officer said 20 Russian-type tanks were seen in the area.

The fight began Wednesday night and continued into Thursday night when the U. S. force fought its way clear. It took out its wounded on tanks and armored vehicles.

The Allies said they killed 300 to 400 Chinese. At least eight Reds were taken prisoner.

One Allied officer said the abrupt attack by at least a regiment of Reds might be the beginning of a new offensive. An Eighth Army spokesman said it was too early to tell.

Eye-witnesses said the final escape of the U. S. force was a "mad dash" by armored vehicles and foot troops.

Hundreds of United Nations planes swarmed in to rocket, bomb, strafe and burn the Chinese (Turn to Page Twelve)

TWO SOUTHERN BELLES SHINE IN CONTEST

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 6.—(P)—Two southern belles rang up the first victories last night in the Miss America pageant.

In the first of three preliminary contests before the Saturday night finals, Miss Alabama, Jeanne Moody of Cherokee, Ala., walked off with the talent trophy. Miss North Carolina, Lu Long Ogburn of Smithfield, N. C., took bathing suit honors.

Miss North Carolina, a 19-year-old Salem College, N. C., student, is five feet, 8½ inches tall, and measures 26 inches at the waist, 36 at the bust and 37 at the hips.

The 21-year-old Miss Alabama, clad in a pink negligee, gave a dramatic portrayal of an invalid woman who is about to be murdered.

Predicts Man Will Rocket to Mars On Electrified Particles Known as "Ions"

London, Sept. 6.—(P)—A British atom scientist said today man may come day rocket to mars on a beam of electrified particles called ions.

Dr. L. S. Shepherd, one of this country's leading physicists, said the strange space craft could operate between an artificial moon of the earth and one of the tiny marian moons.

Shepherd, a research expert at the main British government atom laboratory in Harwell, also is technical director of the British Interplanetary Society.

He described his ion rocket in a paper prepared for the 12-nation second International Congress on Astronautics—space navigation—now in progress here.

First, Shepherd said, the artificial earth moon, or space-station, must be set up.

October Draft Call Increased to 46,000

Washington, Sept. 6.—(P)—The Defense Department today raised its October draft call from 41,000 to 44,600 men.

The additional 3,600 men will go to the Marine Corps which has asked for 8,600 draftees in October. The remaining 36,000 will go into the Army.

The department also asked for 33,700 draftees in November. The Army will get 29,000 and the Marine Corps 4,700.

Much Speculation Over MacArthur's Talk in Cleveland

New York, Sept. 6.—(P)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur took off at 9:56 a. m. (EST) today for a Cleveland speaking engagement after telling reporters he had not read President Truman's Japanese peace conference speech.

The general was accompanied by his wife.

The plane's take-off was delayed almost an hour after last minute discovery of a defective governor in one of its engines.

MacArthur declined to reveal the subject of the address he will give tonight.

Cleveland, Sept. 6.—(P)—General Douglas MacArthur takes the public platform tonight, at a time when the Japanese peace treaty conference is in full swing in San Francisco.

Although the General gave no indication of his subject matter for tonight, there was speculation that the speech would contain references to the Japanese and the Far Pacific.

Before President Truman stripped him of his commands in the Far East on charges of failing to follow orders, the 71-year-old General headed not only the Allied forces in Korea, but the occupation of Japan as well.

He was not invited to the conference in San Francisco. But in opening the conference Tuesday night, the President referred to the "outstanding leadership of General Douglas MacArthur and his successor General Matthew Ridgway."

Yugoslav News Agency Correspondent Convinced Louis Adamic Was Murdered

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—(P)—A Yugoslav newspaperman said today he is strongly convinced that Louis Adamic was murdered. The author was found dead from a rifle shot in his New Jersey home Tuesday. The death tentatively was listed as a suicide pending investigations.

M. Anton Smole, correspondent for the Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, said he had been a close friend of Adamic since 1947.

Smole, 31, San Francisco for the Japanese peace conference, told The Associated Press:

"Mr. Adamic's life was threatened four times, twice by an American connected with communism (Communist information bureau) a Russian propaganda agency. Smole said he last saw the 52-year-old writer in June in New York. Adamic told him:

"The threats began in 1949 when he returned from Yugoslavia with material for an anti-Soviet, pro-Tito book.

Adamic said he was beaten and kicked unconscious one night last March near Los Angeles. He blamed persons determined to see the book was not written.

He said the book would be published at the end of 1951. (Adamic's secretary, Mrs. Ethel Sharp, said he had written all but one chapter of the book, 'The Eagle and the Rock,' the manuscript was missing.)

The first threat was made in the summer of 1949 when a man went to the Adamics' isolated farmhouse near Milford, N. J.

Smole said, 'this man advised Adamic to cease writing favorable articles about Yugoslavia and particularly warned him against publishing the book. He said there would be a 'bad ending' if Adamic did not take this advice.

"Knowing him, I exclude the possibility of suicide. I am strongly convinced he was murdered," Smole said.

The only request he had as he left his father for the operating room was: "Say, dad, can I have my name in the paper?" You can, Danny. Here it is.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM—This huge dryer for soda ash, fabricated at the Warren plant of Struthers-Wells Corp., posed quite a transportation problem for Pennsylvania Railroad officials. The dryer, filled with metal tubes, weighs 145,000 pounds and is 105 feet long. It is to be delivered to the Solvay plant near Syracuse, N. Y. The two big flat cars on which the dryer rests are each capable of carrying 190,000 pounds. There are only about 135 such cars in use on the Pennsylvania system, and the request for the cars had to be placed months ago. The dryer is mounted on special bolsters to permit it to swing somewhat in negotiating turns. Big roller bearings and smaller parts of the dryer are mounted on two regular-sized flat cars. The shipment is to be made by local freight during daylight hours only. Special precautions will be required on curves and crossovers. The Pennsy will deliver the dryer to the Genesee, N. Y., junction, where the New York Central will take it over for delivery at Solvay. Struthers-Wells has made several such dryers, but this is the first time the unit has been shipped assembled. The company has on file orders for eight or nine similar dryers. (Times-Mirror Photo).

Caucus to Study Flexible $138,000,000 Tax Program Designed to End Deadlock

Harrisburg, Sept. 6.—(P)—A flexible $138,000,000 tax program designed to end the general assembly's long deadlock will go before the house Republican caucus next Monday for action.

Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican floor leader, predicted "likely approval" of the program worked out by a special house GOP committee as a substitute for Gov. John S. Fine's rejected state income tax.

Approval by house Republicans, however, will be but one of numerous actions that must be taken before the assembly's big tax program is finally wrapped up.

Should the 120-member house majority accept the latest package, it must then be approved by the Republican senate caucus.

Then it would be formally introduced in the legislature for a vote of the house and senate and finally be submitted to the governor.

Speaker Herbert P. Sorg said, if senate Republicans okayed the program, the assembly could get to work on the formalities of enacting it and permit the assembly to adjourn finally by the end of September. The tax deadlock has produced the longest session of the legislature since 1778.

Smith said he expected the GOP house caucus to approve the program because "it is sufficiently flexible." He explained the caucus would have a choice of many ideas suggested as a solution for the tax (Turn to Page Twelve)

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY IN STATE DECLINES

State College, Sept. 6.—(P)—The overall industrial activity in Pennsylvania slowed down a bit in July, a survey showed today.

The Bureau of Business Research at Pennsylvania State College here reported its index stood at 214 for the month two points below June but 22 points over a year ago.

The index is based on coal production, industrial power sales and the employee hours in manufacturing and uses the years 1925-39 as 100 in compiling its index.

Successful Plant Breeder Head of the "Methodist Family of the Year" for '51

Tifton, Ga., Sept. 6.—(P)—Dr. Glenn W. Burton, who finds time for a full religious life along with his successful career as a plant breeder, is head of the "Methodist Family of the Year" for 1951.

He, Mrs. Burton and their five children were unanimously chosen for the honor by a board of lay judges today from 384 entries from 44 states. Nominations were lacking only from Arizona, New Hampshire, Utah and Wyoming.

The selection climaxed a year's search by The Christian Advocate, official publication of the Methodist Church, for a family typifying the virtues of Methodism.

They will be presented by The Christian Advocate at the National Conference on Family Life in Chicago October 12-14.

The Burtons moved here from Millwood, N. J., in 1936 and Dr.

Turnpike Safety Is Considered At Capital Conference

Harrisburg, Sept. 6.—(P)—A safety conference of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission was held today that reduction of the 70-mile-an-hour speed limit for automobiles is not the answer to the accident problem on the famed toll road across the state.

Commissioner Edward J. Jones said in an address opening a conference of representatives of motor clubs, bus and trucking firms that the commission has "an open mind" on the speed question.

Trucks and buses are limited to 50 miles an hour on the 160-mile expressway from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh.

The safety problem, Jones said, "is not so much one of dealing with the speedy driver as what to do about the unsafe operators of passenger or commercial vehicles—unsafe not only because of reckless driving habits but those who are unsafe for a variety of other reasons."

The safety conference was called for a round table discussion on how to reduce fatalities on the superhighway. Officials of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority and the (Turn to Page Twelve)

Soaking Rainfall Relieves Forest Fire Danger After a Dry Spell of 35 Days

Even a drizzling rain, or scattered showers, or just a gentle sprinkle—any water from the skies in any amount—would have been welcomed by the worried foresters, but what they wanted was a soaking rain, and a soaking rain is just what came, starting during the night and lasting into today. It relieved their anxiety in regard to the dry forest floor, almost parched by 35 days without enough rain to provide any protection at all.

At the offices of R. J. Costley, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, and A. H. Vogler, district forester for the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, it was said that enough soaking rain had fallen to alleviate the fire hazard "for a few days." Additional rain is hoped for by the coming week-end.

Mr. Vogler, accompanied by Forest Inspector Jay Pees and Dispatcher Kenneth Check, will return Friday from Hickory Run Camp in the Weiser forest district near Hazleton, where they have been attending an inspectors' school.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6.—(P)—Parched Pittsburghers awoke today to the steady drumming of a rain that ended a month-long dry spell and the worst drought in 57 years.

More rain is predicted for tonight, with the day's fall expected to nearly equal the .55 of an inch that fell during the entire month of August.

The Weather Bureau said the rain was widespread over the tri-state area. Clearing weather is expected tomorrow with a high of 80 degrees after an overnight low of 63.

Agricultural experts said the welcome rain would save much of the late vegetable crop, particularly beans and sweet corn. Cattle-men predicted better fall grass for their livestock.

Gromyko, Defeated in Effort To Get Red China a Seat in the Parley, Is Certain Not to Sign

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—(P)—Russia's demand for wholesale rewriting of the British-American draft of a Japanese peace treaty was dismissed by western delegates today as being "out of order" and doomed to failure in the peace conference here.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko, defeated in his initial efforts to get Red China into the meeting and to change the conference rules to suit his own purposes, appeared certain not to sign the treaty.

He took such a battering on every move he made yesterday that some western delegates believed he might be seeking new instructions from Moscow.

Anything from a walkout to new and strong threats of war in the Far East was considered possible for the Russians, and their Polish and Czech satellite delegations, in view of the situation which has developed here with extraordinary speed.

Gromyko told the conference yesterday that what the United States and Britain are sponsoring "is not a treaty of peace but a treaty for the preparation of a new war in the Far East."

"The draft treaty," he charged, reading rapidly from his prepared speech, "creates conditions for the reestablishment of Japanese militarism, creates a danger of a new Japanese aggression."

Instead of providing for withdrawal of foreign (that is, American occupation) troops, he went on, "it insures the presence of foreign armed forces on the territory of Japan and the maintenance of foreign military bases in Japan even after the signing of a peace treaty."

Gromyko wound up his speech with a proposal of 13 major amendments to the British-American draft. These included provisions to force American troops out of Japan, bring Red China into the peace-making, and give Formosa to Red China. Only such changes, he declared, would make the treaty acceptable to Russia.

Altogether the day was one of the roughest a Soviet delegation ever experienced in a public session of a major international meeting. In only two hours at the outset Gromyko lost the rules fight that had been expected to last all day at least. A tight set of rules limiting debate and barring changes in the treaty was adopted 48 to 3.

That was at yesterday morning's session, the first business meeting of the conference. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, elected president, immediately shifted the conference into high gear—driving toward a treaty signing ceremony scheduled Saturday.

In a session opening at 10 a. m. today speeches were scheduled by the delegates of El Salvador, Norway, Haiti, Nicaragua, Egypt, Laos and Ceylon. This was to be followed by an afternoon session in which representatives of Pakistan, France and the Philippines were to speak. French Foreign (Turn to Page Twelve)

WEATHER STATIONS MAY BE KEPT OPEN

Washington, Sept. 6.—(P)—It may not be necessary to close the weather bureau stations at Curwensville, Scranton, Reading, Erie and Park Place, Pa., Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) has been told.

Van Zandt, who inquired into the planned closing of the stations, said he was informed that senate changes in a money bill would permit continued operation of the stations.

The announcement that the stations would have to be closed as an economy move was made after house action on the bill. If the house accepts the senate version of the bill, Van Zandt said he was told by an appropriation committee aide, the stations will remain open.

Flood Threat In Kansas City Eases

Kansas City, Sept. 6.—(P)—A flood threat to metropolitan Kansas City's industrial districts eased today as rains diminished and the rampaging Kansas river dropped steadily upstream.

The industrial areas remained on the alert, however. They are still recovering from a July flood that caused an estimated $2,500,000,000 damage in Missouri and Kansas.

President Truman, spending a brief visit in his home state after attending the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco, planned to tour the flood-harassed districts late today.

Army engineers expressed "reasonable confidence" no new flooding would occur but continued around-the-clock work on dikes.

The weather bureau lowered its crest prediction from 31 to 29 feet and the dikes are believed capable of containing the Kansas river at that figure.

At Topeka, the state capital, the river fell steadily.

New Rumor About The Columbus Dam Abroad in Corry

The State Fish Commission will be asked to act on a request that it carry out the repair of the Columbus Dam at its next meeting in October, the Corry Journal says.

Banded about for four years—it was destroyed in April of 1947—the project to rebuild the dam has in recent months faded into the background as members of the Columbus Municipal Authority awaited word from the fish commission on what action it will take.

Within the past few days F. F. O'Hara, engineer for the commission; Mr. Geer, member of the Sanitary Water Board; Mr. Engle of Sharon and Assemblyman Allan Gibson of Sheffield visited the dam site for a personal investigation.

Engineer O'Hara's survey of the work needed to make the necessary repairs is reported to have disclosed that the project will cost in the neighborhood of $17,000. Previously, it had been estimated for the Authority that the work would run in the neighborhood of $12,000.

Where the Department of Forests and Waters had been unable to carry out the project because the site did not meet specifications to qualify for a state expenditure, it's now understood that the Fish Commission can finance the work with the money coming from the lease fund.

One of the most heartening rumors in connection with the project is that Charles French, head of the fish commission, has told area legislators that he will recommend at the next meeting of the commission that they can finance the work by that body.

Prior to its destruction four years ago the dam and that section of the Brokenstraw Creek north of it was one of the most popular fishing haunts for area anglers.

Drops in Wholesale Food Prices Noted

New York—(P)—Wholesale food prices this week dropped to a new 1951 low, according to the Dunn & Bradstreet food index.

The index fell from $6.89 last week to $6.82 in the sharpest week-to-week decline since early July. The index still was 2.6 per cent above the year-ago level of $6.65, however.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use. This week it's at the lowest level since the . . . $6.80 of last December 19. The 1951 high to date was 7:31 on Feb. 20. Eleven of the 31 foods represented were lower in the wholesale cost this week, with the pork products, hams, bellies and lard, pacing the decline. Seven foods were a little higher, the rest unchanged. Higher were corn, rye, oats, milk, cottonseed oil, potatoes and steers.

NEEDLE IN WRIST

Roger Ward, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ward of Findley Lake, was treated at the Corry Memorial Hospital Sunday evening for removal of a needle from his right wrist. The needle punctured the youth's arm when he fell while playing at home. After treatment he was released.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

Suffering second degree burns about the face and neck when a boiling radiator solution bubbled out of the radiator opening, Richard Belding, 35, of Erie, R. D. 1, was treated at the Corry hospital at 1:30 p. m. Sunday. Belding was gushing out the radiator of his auto when the mishap occurred. He was treated and then discharged.

CRUDE RUNS TO STILLS

Crude runs to stills for the week ending Aug. 25 averaged 6,500,000 barrels daily, according to figures released by the American Petroleum Institute. The total represented an increase of 30,000 barrels daily over the previous week this year and a further gain of 303,000 barrels daily over the comparable week in 1950.

COLLISION AT CONNEAUT

"Miss Conneaut," a passenger steamer, and a smaller motorboat collided about 4 p. m. Monday near the Conneaut Lake Park shore. No one was injured, according to Harvey Shadle, operator of Conneaut Lake Navigation Company's boat livery at the park. He said Miss Conneaut had eight passengers aboard. The collision knocked a hole in the side of the passenger ship, and a couple of planks from the Cris-Craft motorboat owned by Mr. Sunincher, a Conneaut Lake Park vacationer. Both boats made it to shore under their own power, but Miss Conneaut started to sink as soon as it reached the dock, Shadle said. The boat settled down on the lake bottom in the shallow dockside water.

JULY RELIEF REPORT

Relief work employment during July reached the highest point since World War II. During the month 113 projects were in operation. A year ago there were only 65 projects operating. The number of relief workers on projects during the month was 490, whereas a year ago the corresponding figure was 371. During the month projects were in operation in 25 counties. A recent amendment to the Public Assistance Law broadened the relief work program by increasing the list of sponsors to include non-profit cemetery associations, fire companies, public libraries, and similar organizations supported in whole or in part by public subscriptions, donations or gifts. In Erie county at the end of the month there were projects totaling $309,917 in operation.

PRODUCTION REPORT

Bradford field daily average crude oil production for the four weeks ending Aug. 31 showed a decline of 629 barrels below the daily average production of the four weeks ending Aug. 3, according to the Bradford District Pennsylvania Oil Producers Association. Bradford field daily average production for the past four weeks was 26,513 barrels; for the previous four weeks, 26,841 barrels. Last week Bradford field production averaged 26,961 barrels daily, as compared to a daily average production of 25,360 barrels for the previous week.

STUDY UP ON SCHOOL BUS LAW

September—when Pennsylvania's youngsters begin or resume their education—seems like an appropriate time for the state's motorists to "study up" on the School Bus Law.

The Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee points out that drivers will be encountering school buses all over the state from now until next June, and it is only common sense to know what the law expects them to do.

Otto F. Messner, Revenue Secretary and chairman of the Advisory Committee, states the requirements of the law briefly:

"When he approaches the front or rear of a school bus which is stopped on a rural highway to load or unload child passengers, a motorist must stop. And he must not move on until the bus starts up or its operator signals him to proceed."

There are exceptions to this rule—for example, on four-lane, divided highways—but "the conscientious driver will do well to observe these general precautions."

The reasons are simple enough, the Secretary explains. The law is aimed at keeping children safe on their way to and from school, and at keeping a motorist from running over a youngster.

"To obey the School Bus Law may take a minute or so more of a driver's time," Messner says, "but surely that is unimportant when it is weighed against the life of an innocent child."

Motorists may learn full details of the law and its penalties by writing for the "School Bus Law" pamphlet. Address requests to Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee, Room 500, Finance Building, Harrisburg.

LESSON IN DEMOCRACY

Mrs. John R. Rice, widow of an American soldier who died in Korea, understands a little more about democracy today than she did a short time back.

Her husband, an American Indian, was buried in Arlington National Cemetery Wednesday at the behest of President Truman. The president took action when he learned an Iowa cemetery had refused burial to Rice because of his Indian blood.

Officials of the Iowa cemetery since have apologized and offered Mrs. Rice a free burial plot for her husband. She bore them no rancor, but still accepted the president's "greater honor." It is well she did, for this incident has stressed anew an American fundamental: blood good enough to be spilled equally with others is good enough to be honored equally.

COLD BLOOD IN CUTAWAY

According to James Marlow, Associated Press feature writer, in an article from Washington, this is a coldblooded business, dressed in a cutaway, at the Japanese peace treaty session in San Francisco. "No one is being kidded, least of all those taking part."

It's surrounded by all the usual trappings of high diplomacy. But it's the raw and naked power of the United States meeting the raw and naked power of Russia, head on. It's deadly without shooting.

This time the U. S. has Russia over a barrel. And it's taking full advantage of that fact. Both sides recognize it. But for appearances' sake they go through the diplomatic song and dance.

The case can be stated in short order:

The U. S. wants this treaty because it gains a powerhouse ally in the Pacific to block any Russian moves; Japan will be allowed to rearm and the U. S. will have troops there. For these same reasons Russia is against the treaty.

At yesterday's first full session, when the Communists tried to mess up the works, they were politely allowed to talk in relays for a couple of hours. Then they were voted down.

On page 7 of this issue will be found a reprint of a talk given before the meeting of the borough teachers Tuesday, by Gerald Newton, director of instruction and curriculum, which is recommended to the attention of every reader of this paper, and more particularly to parents who have children attending classes in the borough and county. A down-to-earth discourse, replete with sound logic and advice prepared in a manner that can be easily interpreted and understood, the article is not only timely but contains much information that will make it easier for parents to understand the problems of instructors of their children, and also provides suggestions for complete and satisfactory cooperation between the fathers, mothers and school officials.

Here And There

Just in Passing It may have been a dark, damp and gloomy morning for some folks, but faces were beaming in the office of the U. S. Forest Service and the Department of Forests and Waters, over the rain that started falling during the night and continued through most of the day, relieving a particularly dangerous situation in forests of the area. . . . Had an odd experience Wednesday checking on just how the Tuesday evening telecast reception came over from San Francisco, when the first two set owners contacted by telephone both admitted that they were in front of video sets at the time "but sound asleep" while the president spoke. . . . Jimmy Reier, superintendent of parks, who also is much relieved over the rainfall of the past few hours, reports that a pair of youngster's glasses were picked up this morning in the vicinity of the pump in Crescent Park, the owner may secure further information by calling at the City Building. . . . The polo in northwestern Pennsylvania has reached 29 with the admittance of four more patients to Lake View Hospital at Erie, none of whom is considered serious. . . . Looked like considerable activity at Wilder Field last evening, with a large group of the Youngsville High school grid team holding forth on the west side of the lot. . . . P. S.: One of our alert composing room employees reminds that the Margaret Jean Anderson, mentioned in the above as having entered the Bradford School for Nursing was the young woman who was "Queen" of the Fourth of July celebration.

This 'n That: Oscar Lauger, one of Warren county's ace agriculturists, is engaged in the first harvesting of his early potatoes and contemplating the output of late spuds from approximately 235 acres that were planted this summer; he planted and harvested 70 acres of peas, and is hoping for a good crop of lima beans planted on an 80-acre plot on the Clough farm near Spring Creek, the seed for which required an outlay of about $1,000. . . . A reader of the column referring to a dispatch from Dayton, O., telling about an accident in which a family of three was electrocuted when a television antenna they were installing fell across a 6,900 volt power line, warns of the danger home owners face in attempting to engage in such a hazardous installation; investigators said a daughter was evidently holding a long steel pipe on the antenna while her parents maneuvered the antenna with wooden poles, when part of the apparatus came in contact with the deadly wire. . . . Delegations from Warren, Kane, Johnsonburg, St. Marys, Salamanca, Olean and other neighboring lodges are expected to attend the annual summer get-together of the Bradford Lodge of Elks to be held Sunday starting at noon. . . . The Lewis Caterers have two outings scheduled for next Sunday, one of them being the annual picnic of Sylvan employees of the Warren district at the Marconi Outing Club, and the other being the dinner and meeting of the Bishops Men of the Erie Diocese of the Episcopal church to be held at Cooks Forest. . . . Names of a number of young women from the Warren area are listed among the thirty student nurses who began training at the Bradford Hospital School of Nursing Tuesday, including Margaret Jean Anderson and Joyce Ann Pierce, of Warren; Arma Jean Donahy, Tions, and Joyce Marie Nicholson, Russell. . . . The Holly Press Debs, Buffalo, who will meet the Dunkirk Kochs Saturday afternoon at the Warren State Hospital diamond in a girls' softball game, as one of the features of the annual program staged as a benefit for the Kiwanis Club Underprivileged Children's Fund, qualified to again represent the Mid-Atlantic League in the "Little World Series" that will be played later in the season against a team that as yet has not been designated; the Holly Debs won the playoff game to take the title of eastern champions. . . . Eleven weeks until Thanksgiving. . . . Joe Scoville, of Peoria, Ill., elephant man with the Mills Bros. Circus, who was operated on a week ago last Monday for appendicitis at the Bradford Hospital, likes the town and its congenial people so well he's decided to make his home there. . . . Better run down to the Youngsville Fair; they say it's one of the best ever.

Communist Lack of Sea Power May Keep Navy Same Size

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Increase of the Air Force to 150 wings or more may not necessarily mean an increase in size of the Navy, though it would mean a bigger Army for expanded air base defenses.

Reason that the U. S. Navy may not have to expand is that the Communist countries haven't much navy to fight. Red powers have far less naval forces than Japan, Germany and Italy had at outbreak of World War Two. Red powers have much less merchant marine to sink.

Navy Secretary Dan Kimball has just revealed that Russia may have over 15 times as many submarines as Hitler had when he started World War Two. The ratio is 20 to an estimated 350.

Chief role of the U. S. and British navies in another war would be to destroy this Red sub pack. Chief role of Allied subs will be as killers, to hunt and destroy Russian subs. In World War Two, Allied forces destroyed 1100 enemy submarines. Secretary Kimball denies that Russian subs are better than American. For one thing Red subs can't refuel at sea or operate far from bases.

When new Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball was looking around for some one to succeed him as under-secretary, he went to defense Secretary George Marshall for advice. Did he have any suggestions about what type of man should be picked for the job?

General Marshall said he did. Get some one, he told Secretary Kimball, that you can work with. General Marshall recalled that when he himself had become Army Chief of Staff, before World War Two, the then-Secretary of War Harry Woodring wasn't on speaking terms with his assistant secretary, Louis Johnson. It was a pretty frustrating time.

Secretary Kimball chose Francis Whitehair, Florida lawyer and former Office of Price Stabilization counsel as his under-secretary. The two men had known each other for a long time. Before making the appointment, however, Kimball took Whitehair in to present him to General Marshall.

"Can you two men work together?" asked Marshall. They said they could. "That," said the General, "is all I want to know."

NAVY may go slow on ordering any more "super" aircraft carriers right away. Present idea is to complete the James G. Forrestal now being built at Newport News and shake it down before starting any more. Actually, the Forrestal, won't be a super carrier. It will just be a bigger carrier than any now afloat.

Every new carrier gets better than its predecessors. Improvements designed for the Forrestal are so radical that they will take nearly testing before being incorporated in later designs. It will take nearly four years to complete the Forrestal.

Marshall Plan Administrator William C. Foster believes western Europe's industrial production can be built up for great arms production effort, with just a little more coordination and help.

Britain can build jet engines if necessary raw materials are made available. Holland can build air frames. And Belgium has facilities for assembly if given a little more know-how.

Costs can be greatly reduced. A bazooka that costs $75 in the U. S. can be made for $15 in France.

If U. S. does not take advantage of these resources, Mr. Foster told House Foreign Affairs Committee, it might be necessary to mobilize 12 to 13 million men in this country and spend $5 to 40 per cent of its economy on defense, instead of present 20 per cent.

New Salem Church Pastor

Arriving in Warren today and moving his family into the parsonage at 4 Marion street, the Rev. Francis E. Fehlman, will immediately take up his duties as pastor of Salem Evangelical United Brethren church and will preach his first sermon to the congregation at 10:45 a. m. Sunday. Mr. Fehlman is really no newcomer to the community, having been born here, the son of the late Arthur J. and N. Mae Fehlman, and having been graduated from Warren High School in 1943. His wife is the former Eloise Martin, Richmond, Va., to whom he was married on July 8, 1946, and they have one daughter, Cynthia Sue, born on July 21, 1950.

Following his graduation from high school, young Fehlman entered the Navy V-12 program in July, 1943, and was stationed at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., until he was honorably discharged in November, 1945. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Dartmouth in 1946 and was graduated from Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, O., in 1949, with a bachelor of divinity degree. He also served as caseworker for two years for the American Red Cross in Dayton, while attending seminary, and took a special three-months course at Dayton State Hospital. He was pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren church in New Hope, O., from March, 1946, to September, 1948, and served the denomination's parishes at Rapids and Pendleton, N. Y., from that date until the present.

Peaker Urges Teachers of Warren To Equip Each Child With Sense of Values Which Will Lend Dignity and Truth

"Will you increase your efforts to equip each child in your temporary care with a sense of values which will lend dignity and truth whatever else he may learn," urged Gerald M. Newton, director of instruction and curriculum, when he spoke before all the teachers of Warren borough at their first meeting of the school year, Tuesday.

Because Mr. Newton's subject, "Teaching of Citizenship and 'World Understanding,'" is so timely and of such general interest, the Times-Mirror requested permission to print his address in full, and which was as follows:

"During the 1950-51 school term, saw much good teaching and, any good learning situations, without calling it by name, much as taught by example and practice in good citizenship. From discussion and group activity where each child's contribution was appreciated, human values were given a fair amount of emphasis. It is in the direction of learning for citizenship and human values that want to direct your attention."

"General Bradley once said, 'An educated people is easy to lead, it hard to drive; easy to govern, but impossible to enslave.' It is the main responsibility for maintaining an educated citizenry versity. Here is the adolescent's concept of a good citizen: He is a person who shows pride in his community and takes part in its affairs; he is likely to be a leader of a youth group or a sponsor of recreational activities; he is willing to give advice or support to individual young people; he is active in school affairs; contributes to charity and takes a leading role in organizing worthwhile projects; is conscientious about voting in all elections, even the small ones, and has good personal relationships, being helpful, kind, tactful, and unselfish.

"Does it startle you if these teenagers do not mention political party activity, military and civilian war service, improvement of law, help in law enforcement, treatment of minority groups, jury duty, taxes, conduct of political office, labor management relations, or business practices? Perhaps our Warren teenagers would have. To me, it shows that we cannot launch into the presentation of deep, grass roots citizenship matters without first finding out where the pupils' local citizenship thinking is.

"Instructionally, we must all accept understanding the child's 'here and now' before we can guide him usefully and with success to the 'there and then.' Often the abstract values of freedom are expressed by a student in textbook style, but for him to make such values a part of himself they must be put in terms of his present living. A recent survey on citizenship was conducted at Teachers College, Columbia Uni-give youth a first-hand lesson to the effect that one gets out of life in proportion to what he puts in.

"We have stratified our society in and out of school with so much assembly line, piece-meal activity that pupils and adults often lose sight of any over-all pattern for living. In frontier days, the quality and quantity of a man's work had a direct relationship to the welfare of his family. If he sowed two logs, he would have twice as many for his barn as he would have had by sowing only one. If he built a good fireplace, he kept his family warmer than if he had built a poor one. A good shot at an animal meant food; a poor shot, hunger. The relationship was clear, everyone could see it, and it served as a powerful motivating force.

"In a society like ours, where more than 80 per cent of the people work for someone else, it is important that each person sees a relationship between his work and the way he and his family live. It becomes a major job for the public schools to help individuals fit into each of the groups in which he finds himself in the school program. If we can show a pupil how his effort helps a group project, we then have a better reason for him to see how important the individual contribution to our free enterprise system is.

"My vote, as a member of the Electrical Union, or the Railroad Brotherhood, makes me in part responsible for the policy adopted by those whom I help elect. Action of a union or a corporation may tend to commit an individual to policies which he would be reluctant to approve on an individual basis. Here we are faced with the responsibility of trying to raise group standards to those expected of individuals. Certainly, I am not saying it is our public school responsibility alone for improvement in moral and spiritual values; it is a mutual responsibility of the school and its teachers as well as of other institutions and members of the community.

"Judging from the recent West Point incident, this responsibility should be shared by leaders in military circles as well. Someone may say why not teach a course in human values: Monday, morals; Tuesday, manners; Wednesday, respect for property; Thursday, safety; Friday, thrift and patriotism. Evidence from 25 years ago down to the present has shown that knowledge about right conduct does not increase the probability of right conduct itself. In the words of the Educational Policies Commission, 'Teaching moral values as a separate part of the school curriculum is a questionable response to an unquestioned need.' Lessons in character education cannot be clamped on like a gadget to some corner of the educational program.

"When we say that moral and spiritual values are every teacher's business, we warn against drawing the conclusion that they are no teacher's business. Although the teaching of values cannot be neatly placed on a time schedule, such teaching need not be left to accident. Of course, we all recognize that some folks fear dealing with subjects so close to religion; that there is a variety of heavy demands on the time and energy of teachers and that there has been a tendency to allow the mastery of subject matter to take precedence over other kinds of learning. Evidence now available suggests that the procedure most likely to be effective in the teaching of moral and spiritual values is to weave these concepts into the entire life of the school and to make them a vital part of all subjects of instruction in the school program.

"In other words, the spirit of a school and its teachers become the basic factors in developing moral values. Again referring to the Educational Policies Commission, 'Schools that exemplify moral values are better than lessons that preach them.' A democratic society grants to every citizen the right to believe as his conscience and training dictate. Teachers can, without promoting any religious creed, encourage pupils to regard with approval, participation in religious activities, appropriate to their homes and family background. The public school can teach objectively about religion without advocating or teaching any religious creed. We can and should teach much useful information about the religious faiths, the important part they have played in establishing the moral and spiritual values of American life and their role in the story of mankind. Briefly, I hope I have emphasized six points:

- (1) Education makes the United States a great nation.
- (2) School children must be taught on the basis of things that are happening to them and around them right now.
- (3) With the teacher as a guide, pupils must be led into helping plan their own education and accept responsibility for it.
- (4) Group living has become more and more complicated over the years, and we must help youth understand the inter-relationships.
- (5) Every teacher, every day, in every class, is dealing in and influencing values.
- (6) We can teach about the benefits of religion to our American way of life.

Mourer Family Organizes An Annual Reunion Group

The spacious lawn and home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mourer, North Main street, Youngsville, was the scene of a large group gathering representing descendants of Lawrence and Christina Haag Mourer, among the early settlers near Warren.

There were 52 persons in attendance to do justice to a fine picnic dinner served at tables on the lawn and to enjoy the gift of watermelon sent by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, Harrington, Del., who were unable to be present.

The affair honored Mrs. Theresa Mourer Crozier and daughter, of Erie, who are leaving to make their home in Huntingdon Beach, Calif.

It was decided to organize and make the gathering an annual affair, with the following elected to serve as officers in 1952: President, Loren Mourer, Sugar Grove; vice president, Helen Samuelson, Youngsville; secretary, Germaine Mourer, Youngsville. A vote of thanks was extended the host and hostess by the group, which included members from West Palm Beach, Fla.; Wilmington, Del.; Erie, Warren, Sugar Grove, Irvine and Youngsville.

The next meeting will be held the fourth Sunday in August, 1952, at Wilder Field, Irvine, with Herman Mourer and Elwood Peterson in charge of arrangements.

Many Announcements For Church Groups in Ludlow

Ludlow, Sept. 6—A number of important church announcements have been made during the week by representatives of both Moriah Lutheran and the Mission Covenant churches.

Members of the former parish are interested in a stewardship meeting of the Warren District to be held in St. Paul's church at Warren at 7:45 p. m. Monday; also in announcement of an unusual missionary program to be given in the local church at 8 p. m. Friday, September 14. The program will be given by five young people, some of them missionaries, known as the World Mission Prayer League. The two missionary groups urge that all persons interested enjoy their program, which will include colored slides.

NEW FACE AT YW DESK—Mrs. Leon Christiansen, 112 Water street, is the new office secretary at the YWCA activities building, succeeding Mrs. Walter Smith. The former Pae O'Hare, of Titusville, she has been a resident of Warren since June, when she became Mrs. Christiansen. She is a graduate of Titusville High School, attended Edinboro State Teachers College for two years, and was employed as secretary at the Universal Cyclops Steel Corporation in Titusville before coming here.

entertained at the church by Mrs. Adolph Swanson and Mrs. William Gunderson of New York City, with a splendid attendance. Devotions were in charge of Ernest Carlson and the business session was conducted by Mrs. Otto Carlson, president. The program included a reading by Sylvia Carlson; piano solo by Mrs. Wales W. Connelly, and a vocal duet by Mrs. Victor Bergquist and Norma Bergquist. Coffee was served in the late evening and a social hour was enjoyed.

Mission church members are reminded a business session will be held in the church at 7:30 o'clock this evening; also that Sunday services will be church school at 9:45 a. m. and worship period at 11:00, with Miss Florence Davidson of Warren as the speaker. The Covenant Ladies Aid was

Dorothea Giltinan - Francis Williams Married in Holy Redeemer Church

Holy Redeemer church was the scene of an impressive morning wedding Saturday, September 1, uniting Miss Dorothea Giltinan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Giltinan, Jackson avenue extension, to Francis T. Williams, son of Mrs. Helen Church, North East, and Thomas Williams, 15 Lacy street.

The ceremony took place at nine o'clock, Father L. E. Dalley officiating. The high altar was decorated with white gladioli and lighted cathedral candles. Mrs. Evelyn Donnelly, church organist, played traditional wedding music.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Patricia Giltinan, gowned in yellow net, ballerina length, with a matching stole. Her head piece was of yellow velvet. Mrs. Retta LaJoie was the bridesmaid, and she wore a lilac colored dress identical to the maid of honor. Both carried cascade bouquets of gladioli.

Groomsmen were his cousin, Frank Williams, best man, with Nestor Biech, as usher.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. Her lovely ballerina length wedding gown of white lace over nylon not was fashioned with a high neckline and a buttoned bodice. Her shoulder length veil fell from a net bonnet, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and white streamers caught with baby's breath.

Both mothers chose navy dresses with navy accessories and wore corsages of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Carver Hotel for the wedding party. Later a family reception was held at the bride's home. White gladioli was used in artistic decoration, and the bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams honeymooned in Toronto, Canada. For traveling, the bride wore a yellow suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. They are temporarily residing with Mrs. Williams' family on Jackson avenue, to be at home after October at Sixth and Henry streets.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams are graduates of Warren High school. Mrs. Williams is employed at Retta LaJoie's Beauty Salon, and Mr. Williams is a partner in the Williams Salvage Company.

Determined Women Sold Men On Idea of Wearing Shorts

If you don't believe that women are the more determined sex, look at how they've sold men on the idea of wearing shorts.

When women first decided that shorts were the ideal costume for doing housework and gardening, men threw up their hands in real horror.

They thought women looked terrible in shorts and said so. They thought women who wore shorts were looking for masculine attention.

But the women went right on wearing shorts. And now, of course, they have their husbands wearing them, too.

Papa, who once sneered at women who wear shorts to do yard work, now comes home from the office and gets into shorts before he tackles any job around the yard.

It doesn't occur to Papa that anybody will think he is showing off when he wears shorts to push the lawn mower.

PAPA FINDS SHORTS MORE COMFORTABLE

NOW does he ever stop to wonder if he looks as handsome in a pair of shorts as in a business suit.

All he cares about is that he's comfortable. Yet when Mama was introducing shorts to the American home, Papa couldn't believe she liked them because she had at last found the ideal summer working uniform.

Now, of course, there's not much he can say. After all, the average woman is more fetching in a pair of shorts than the average man. And if he wears them purely for comfort, how can he intimate that she doesn't find them just as comfortable?

It didn't take women long to sell men on the idea of shorts. It was a short shorts story.

Architects Discuss New Joint School For Six Districts

Corry Journal: Representatives of five architectural firms, several of them specializing in school construction, appeared before joint school districts making up the Corry Area Joint School in a special session last week at the Junior High building. At the end of the three-hour session the problem of selecting an architectural firm to start work on the projected local program was turned over to the joint committee for study and a report to the joint board.

Basically, last week's session was an educational one for members of the committee as they heard representatives of the various firms outline their ideas on school construction. Members of the joint committee are anxious to get the building plan whipped into shape for presentation to state officials as rapidly as possible, largely because of the provisions of legislation which has been passed by the House and which it is predicted will be approved by the Senate. Known as Bill No. 163, the measure provides for increased state aid for school building. Because the amount of funds available are limited, local committee members hope to get in on the ground floor when applications are approved. Mrs. George Stanaway and daughter, Margaret, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Hunter, North Warren, have returned to their home in Newport News, Va. The Hunters, with their son, Donald Alan, accompanied them to Virginia for a few days' visit.

Emblem Oil Starts Clearing Property For Corry Station

Corry Journal: Razing of the old Emblem Oil Co. property on the southeast corner of East Columbus avenue and North Center street was started Tuesday by the Warren oil concern to make way for a new and modern filling station which will be erected there.

H. W. Schmidt, vice president of the company, stated it is planned to have the station completed and in operation within the next three and one-half months. It is anticipated about 10 days will be required to demolish the old structure and clear the property while the new building is started for erection in 90 days from that time.

The contract for the station has been let to the Erie Enameling Company of Erie, which has also been named architect.

The 14-foot high structure, which will have a porcelain-enamel siding, will measure 35 by 35 feet and face on Columbus avenue. However, Mr. Schmidt explained, the two-bay station will also have an entrance on the Center street side.

Upon completion, Mr. Schmidt stated, the station will carry a complete line of tires, batteries and other accessories in addition to furnishing gasoline, oil and car washing facilities.

GAS CO. OFFICIAL—Fred W. Batten was named today to the newly created position of vice president and assistant general manager of The Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. In making this appointment known, Chas. E. Bennett, gas company president, said that Mr. Batten's office was in the company headquarters in the Union Trust Bldg., Pittsburgh. Mr. Batten also is vice president and assistant general manager of the associated gas companies, which with the local firm, comprise the Pittsburgh Group of the Columbia Gas System. He comes to the local subsidiary of Columbia from the parent company's New York office where he was assistant vice president of the Columbia Gas System Service Corp.

Russell, Sept. 6—Teachers, PTA officers, the school nurse and the janitor were guests for a special dinner party given in the school cafeteria by the Pine Grove township school board, with a delicious menu prepared and served by the Akeley Service Club.

The 23 persons in attendance included H. L. Blair, county superintendent of schools, who gave a brief talk on school problems and conditions.

Mrs. Blanche McJunkin gave a report covering operation and finances of the school cafeteria for the past three years, showing a profit of $23.47 in 1948-49, while serving 867 free meals, and a loss of $2.10 in 1950-51 for 1,278 meals served.

Much credit for the successful operation of the cafeteria was accorded the cooks, Mrs. George Hedges and Mrs. Clifford Kelley, neither of whom was able to be present for the dinner.

Two new teachers were introduced. H. Russell Blair of Corydon, who will teach sixth grade; and Miss Dorothy Curtis of Sugai Grove, who will teach music.

Pennsylvania Week Workers Will Meet

Ralph E. Sires, Warren county chairman for the Pennsylvania Week celebration, will be accompanied to Brockway today by W. E. Rice, chairman of the business committee, and Charles Tranter, publicity chairman. They will attend a meeting tonight which has been called by Robert L. Warren of Brockway, district chairman, for discussion of Pennsylvania Week program coordination.

Mr. Sires said today that the business education program in the schools is going to predominate the Pennsylvania Week observance and he hoped that Dr. Carl E. Whipple, Warren school superintendent and education committee chairman for Pennsylvania Week, would also be able to attend the Brockway meeting.

The proposed business education program for Warren students will be submitted to Warren Borough Board of Education at its next meeting, Monday, for consideration and approval.

Golfers Battle For Country Club Title

Defending champion Chuck Davis and Tim Creal are slated to play the final 18 holes this afternoon in their match for the 1951 golf crown at the Conewango Valley Country Club.

Creal is leading the match so far, being 4 up at the end of the first 18 holes.

The same two golfers battled it out in the finals last year, with Davis winning the championship.

In this year's tourney, Davis eliminated John Carter, 3 and 2, ousted Stan Korb, by the same score, and then beat Hal Conarzo, Jr. 2 up, to reach the finals.

Creal won a first round match against Bob Walsh, 7 and 6, and then went on to eliminate Phil Pritchard, 6 and 4 and Dick Krapfel, by the same score.

Striking Teachers Have Pay Day and Return

An emergency grant of $25,000 from the state and a bank loan.

A $15,000 grant to Kulpmont township, Northumberland county also was authorized by Dr. Francis P. Haas, State Superintendent of Public Instruction to end a similar strike of 30 teachers in that district. The teachers called a meeting for later in the day to discuss the situation.

The strike involved 161 teachers all told. Money owed them ranged from six weeks' to six months' pay, due largely to tax collection difficulties.

In western Pennsylvania, five Carrolltown high school teachers were ordered back to work after the Cambria county township received a $4,621 check from the Department of Public Instruction to pay for back salaries.

Victim of Boxing Tragedy Is Buried

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The man who knocked him out and a fellow boxer who barely escaped a similar death today attended the funeral of 20-year-old George Flores, who died of brain injuries after a Madison Square Garden bout.

"I hope they keep all the promises they made to the widow and family," said Carmine Vingo, a young heavyweight boxer who hovered between life and death two years ago after suffering a brain injury following a Garden fight.

"I wish he could have been as lucky as I was."

Flores left a widow and a one-month-old son.

Roger Donoghue, Flores' conquerer in the fatal welterweight match, sat tight-lipped through a 15-minute service at the funeral home, before the cortege left for Mount Olivet Cemetery, Queens.

Gromyko, Defeated in Effort to Get China a Seat

Minister Robert Schuman will make the address for his country. Gromyko built much of his slashing attack on the treaty on two points: first, that Red China had no part in drafting it; second, that it amounted to an "aggressive military alliance with the United States."

John Foster Dulles, in his speech, detailed American plans for signing a direct pact with Japan providing for continued maintenance of American forces in that country to assure its security. This was made necessary, he said, by the threat of Communist aggression, the dangers of which have been heightened by the war in Korea.

At least two Russian-type tanks were knocked out.

An Allied tank-infantry force fought through a hail of Red fire trying to relieve the encircled unit.

At least one tank and two armored vehicles got through. They joined tanks already with the trapped outfit in carrying out the wounded. An Allied officer said the wounded reached U. N. lines at 6 p. m., 18 hours after the Red's T-34 tanks first opened up.

The sudden outbreak of fighting seven miles west of Yonchon switched the scene of Korean action to the long quiet western front.

The scene of the new fight is seven miles north of the 38th parallel and west of the Imjin river.

In connection with the September meeting of Youngsville borough council, attention of all interested parties is called to a public meeting to be held next Monday evening in the Grange Hall.

Purpose of this gathering is to explain to the townspeople the proposed Department of Highways project for widening and resurfacing of North Main street, with the possibility of including curbing of same in the project.

Two ordinances passed at this month's council meeting accepted an extension of Second street and authorized construction of 360 feet of sanitary sewer on the extension.

Police reports showed $315.32 in meter collections for the month of August; 31 meter violations, three motor violations; seven calls, three doors unlocked, seven street lights out, two dogs disposed of, one child lost, two notices given for weed cutting, one stolen car recovered. Justice of the Peace W. H. Brazee reported fines amounting to $46.50.

U. S. and Portugal Sign an Agreement

Washington, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The United States and Portugal today signed a new agreement which is expected to enable North Atlantic alliance nations to use bases in the Azores "for the purpose of the common defense."

The agreement takes the place of the postwar arrangement by which the United States uses Lajes Field in the Azores. It was signed at Lisbon by Foreign Minister Paulo Cunha and U. S. Ambassador Lincoln MacVeagh.

The state department said in announcing the action that the agreement gives the United States "certain new rights in addition to those already in effect. A spokesman said that "an entirely new relationship is being established."

CONGRESSMAN HAS BUSY DAY IN WARREN

According to reports early this afternoon Congressman Leon H. Gavin, of the 19th Pennsylvania district, is spending a busy day in the office of Compensation Referee Jesse G. Smith, where he is conferring with constituents having business with his office. Representative Gavin arrived about 10:30 o'clock and was busy throughout the morning listening to problems from a host of residents of the area who took advantage of the opportunity to "tell it to the congressman" without going to Washington.

Second degree ceremonies for a class of 30 candidates from Warren and Kane Knights of Columbus Councils were held Tuesday night at the Warren K. of C. rooms.

More than 140 K. of C. members were on hand for the ceremonies, which were conducted under the supervision of a degree team from the Jamestown Council. Luncheon was served following the meeting.

Mrs. Louise Wagner of Falconer, is in Jamestown W. C. A. Hospital as a result of injuries received at 7:30 a. m. today in an accident on Kiantone road, one mile south of the New York state line.

Mrs. Wagner lost control of her car on a slippery black-top road, and the car turned over. Pennsylvania State Police from the Warren sub-station investigated.

THE MARKETS

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Higher prices in the steel division, with liberal help from oil and some coppers, brought the stock market over to the upside today by a small margin. Despite apparent buoyancy there were enough minus signs in important areas of the list to constitute a drag on the bullism. As a general rule the best that the market could do on the higher side was limited to less than a dollar a share. The downside sag was if anything a little smaller.

In the oil Cities Service stood sharply ahead of all the rest with a gain of between $2 and $3 a share. Montana-Dakota Utilities and Northern Pacific Railroad, both with heavy oil interests, were higher along with Gulf Oil, which yesterday announced it had brought in an important western Canadian wildcat well.

W P L REPORTING

Rows of books on shelves are not necessarily a library. They could be a store, warehouse, a form of interior decoration. The real symbol of the public library is the opened book.

The Warren Public Library is fortunate that its readers keep it so active as a public library by opening and reading so many of its books. The library is usually a busy and lively place.

But, of course, reading is not a dull sport. It develops curiosity, the need for mental exploration, the eternal search, just as other sports develop muscles. There are times when the reader comes to the end of an avenue and is not sure where to turn next. There are a number of books which can be of help to the casual reader when he reaches this point:

A GOODLY COMPANY, by Stewart, Bradshaw, et al. This book lists various novels, essays, plays by type—such as Action, Fantasy, comedy—and serves as a good suggestion list.

LIVING UPSTAIRS, by Francis Meehan—A sparkling dissertation on the joys of reading. Mr. Meehan's book offers suggestions, criticisms as well as descriptions of his personal reading habits.

WHAT'S IN A NOVEL and LIVING WITH BOOKS, by Helen Haines—Miss Haines has been recognized for years by the world of librarians as an expert in the evaluation of books. These two books of hers are among the best possible guides for those who want to read constructively as well as for those who want only recreation in reading.

AFTER THE GREAT COM-PANIONS, by Charles Finger—Mr. Finger combines autobiography and a love of books in this well-knit account of a boy's progress from the blood-and-thunder novels to the classical heritage which belongs to all of us. His style is compelling and depicts an age as well as the joys of a book lover.

HOW TO USE A BOOK, by Dr. Marjoram—For the person who must find information or whose time for reading is limited, here is a lucid little text on the techniques of reading.

DIRTY WORK AT SEA? Capetown, South Africa, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Oscar, the young bull elephant of Cambodia sent to President Truman, dropped dead today. The animal died as the ship on which it was travelling, The Steel Surveyor, was docking here.

It was sent by King Morodorn Sihanouk Varmen of Cambodia, to Indochina, as a good will gift following accreditation of the first Cambodian minister to Washington. The elephant will be buried at sea later today after the ship sails.

IRVINE Irvine, Sept. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mason and daughter, Laura, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Mason and children attended the Mason reunion at Arnot Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Stokes, Youngsville, attended the Toronto Fair in Canada over the weekend.

Betty Hamblin Lang left Sunday for Sharon, where she has accepted a position with Westinghouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chase were guests at the home of his sister, Mrs. Tip Wing at Youngsville Labor Day.

Lee Allen and Tip Wing spent Sunday fishing at Chautauque Lake and brought home one muskie.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Lundemuth and family and Mrs. Laura Lindemuth, East Kane, were dinner guests Saturday at the home of the latter's brother, Oliver Olson and family.

Mrs. Laura Wing spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Minerva Bennett, who is very ill at Kan Summit Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Nulph and children spent the weekend end Monday at the home of his parents in Scotch Hill.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

DAIRING PLAY AIDS IN MAKING CONTRACT

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

If you were playing rubber bridge with today's South hand, and if you were doubled at one no-trump, you would probably take your sure tricks and give the opponents 500 points. When Dr. Seward M. Transue led the South hand in this year's national championships, he knew that a loss of 500 points would probably cost his team the match. He therefore played it daringly, hoping the enemy would fall to find the best defense.

West opened the king of clubs, holding the trick. He continued with the queen of clubs, and East discarded the deuce of hearts. Transue won and returned the queen of hearts, thus giving the defenders the chance to take 10 tricks on the run.

East couldn't decide what to do back and therefore declined to take the queen of hearts. This was a declarer's fifth trick, so he was now in a position to settle for a penalty of only 300 points.

Still not satisfied, Dr. Transue returned his last club, allowing West to take his long suit. This made East squirm miserably, just as declarer had hoped.

East began by discarding two diamonds, then parted with a spade, and finally released the queen of diamonds. Meanwhile, South discarded a diamond, a spade, and then the 10 of diamonds.

West now had to find an exit, and chose to get out with a heart. This gave declarer a free finesse, and dummy's 10 was allowed to hold the trick. Business was decidedly picking up; declarer was now sure of six tricks.

Still not satisfied, Transue led the 10 of spades from dummy. East covered with the jack, and South won with the ace. Declarer next cashed the ace of hearts, eliminating that suit from all hands; and then he put East in with the ace of diamonds (now blank). East had to return a

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

WE'RE heading away from summer now and beginning to think of cooler days and bigger meals. So let's buy some of those purple plums and luscious peaches and make a shelf full of preserves for the winter season.

Plum-Orange Conserve
(Makes about 11 six-ounce glasses)

Four and one-half cups prepared fruit, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 7 cups sugar, 1 box powdered pectin, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnut meats

To prepare fruit: Chop 1 orange fine; add 2 cups water. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Pit and halve 2 pounds fully ripe plums. Chop fine. Add orange. Measure 4 1/2 cups into large saucepan. Add raisins.

To make conserve: Measure sugar; set aside. Place saucepan of fruit over high heat. Add powdered pectin; stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to full rolling boil; boil hard 1 minute stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add nut meats, skim and ladle quickly. Paraffin

Peach Jam
(Makes about 11 six-ounce glasses)

Four cups prepared fruit, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit: Peel and pit about 3 pounds soft ripe peaches. Grind. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Squeeze the juice from 2 medium-sized lemons. Measure 1/2 cup juice into saucepan with peaches. To make jam: Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in bottle fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Spiced Peach Jam: Add 1/2 to 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, and allspice or any desired combination of spices to peaches before cooking. Proceed as directed.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, ready-to-eat cereal, soft-cooked eggs, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Canned tuna in sauce made of condensed mushroom soup, fluffy rice, plum-orange conserve, buttered sliced zucchini squash, sliced tomatoes and sweet onions, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, assorted cookies, coffee, milk.

Petroleum Industry Checking Corrosion On Field Equipment

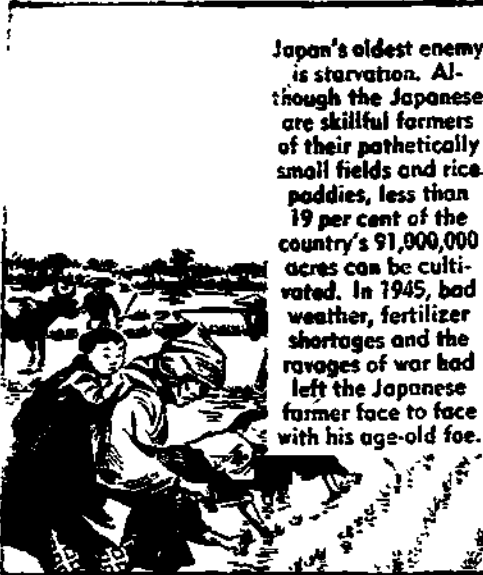

How the petroleum industry is making headway in checking corrosion of oil field equipment, resulting in savings running into millions of dollars annually, is told in a paper prepared by a Bradford man for presentation this week to the American Chemical Society in New York.

Dr. J. N. Braston, director of the Bradford laboratory of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, was scheduled to participate in a symposium on corrosion by water at the society's world chemical conclave that opened Monday.

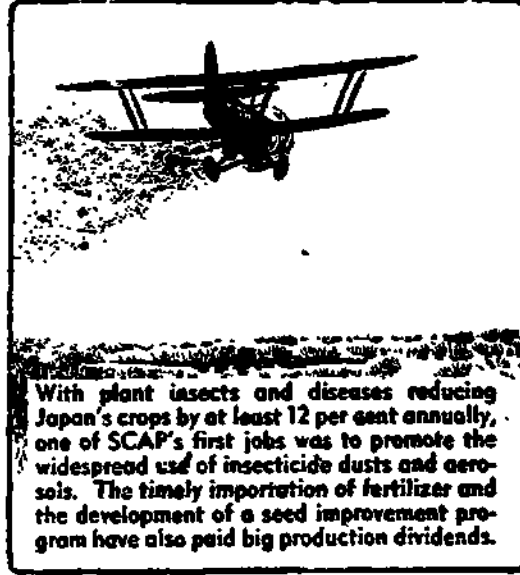

Braston, chairman of the society's Pennsylvania-New York western border section, was to read a paper on "Corrosion Inhibition with Organic Compounds."

Braston explained how inhibitors have been applied successfully to the treatment of oil field flood waters through methods developed in the Penn Grade association's Bradford laboratory. Considerable additional oil is recovered, he said, from wells thought to have "run dry" by injecting water under high pressure into oil sandstone whose pores—smaller than the thickness of a human hair—are kept open by mixing organic inhibitors with flood waters in a ratio of one to 10 parts per million to fight the plugging action of insoluble products of pipe corrosion and bacterial action.

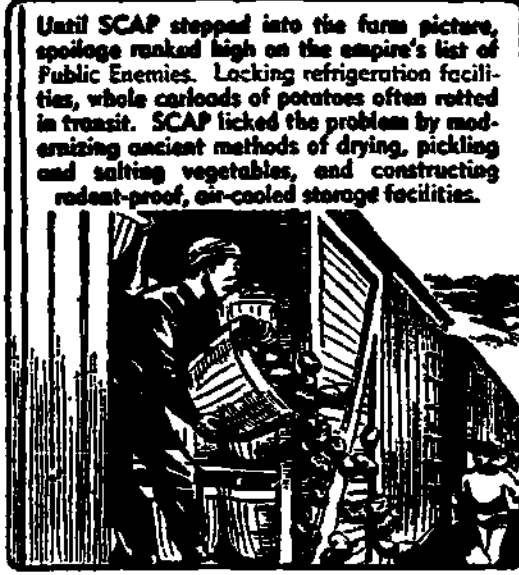

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation (3)

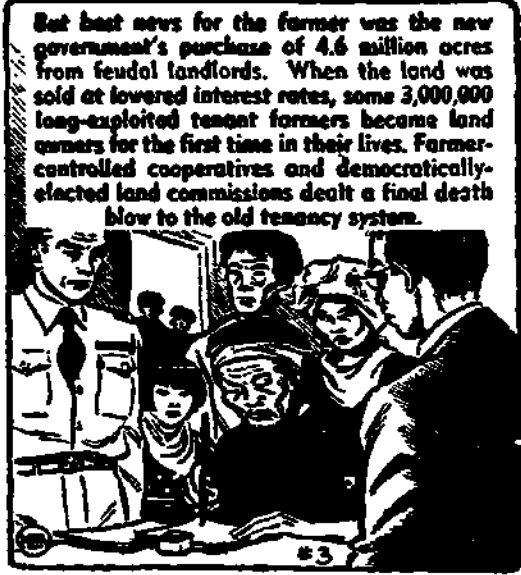

Japan's oldest enemy is starvation. Although the Japanese are skillful farmers of their pathetically small fields and rice paddies, less than 19 per cent of the country's 91,000,000 acres can be cultivated. In 1945, bad weather, fertilizer shortages and the ravages of war had left the Japanese farmer to face with his age-old foe.

With plant insects and diseases reducing Japan's crops by at least 12 per cent annually, one of SCAP's first jobs was to promote the widespread use of insecticide dusts and aerosols. The timely importation of fertilizers and the development of a seed improvement program have also paid big production dividends.

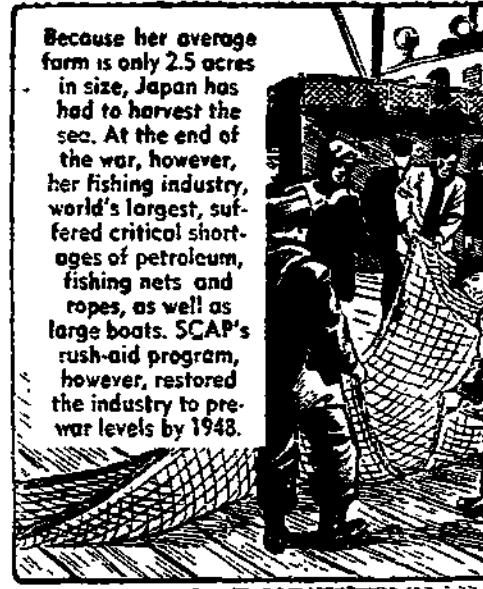

Until SCAP stepped into the farm picture, spoilage ranked high on the empire's list of Public Enemies. Lacking refrigeration facilities, whole carloads of potatoes often rotted in transit. SCAP tackled the problem by modernizing ancient methods of drying, pickling and salting vegetables, and constructing modern, air-cooled storage facilities.

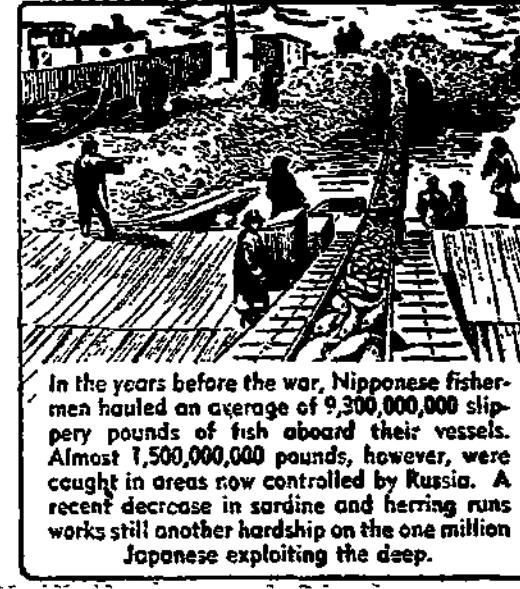

But best news for the farmer was the new government's purchase of 4.6 million acres from feudal landlords. When the land was sold at lowered interest rates, some 3,000,000 long-exploited tenant farmers became land owners for the first time in their lives. Farmer-controlled cooperatives and democratically-elected land commissions dealt a final death blow to the old tenancy system.

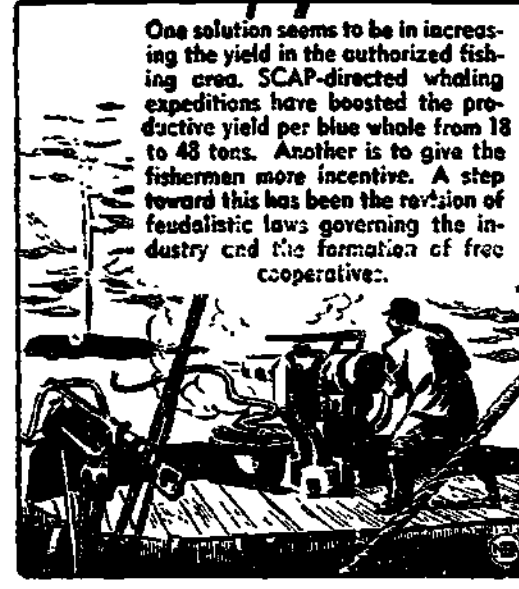

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation (4)

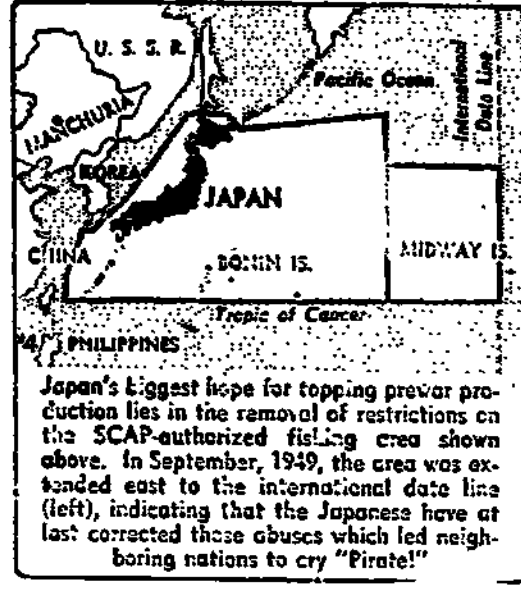

Because her average farm is only 2.5 acres in size, Japan has had to harvest the sea. At the end of the war, however, her fishing industry, world's largest, suffered critical shortages of petroleum, fishing nets and ropes, as well as large boats. SCAP's rush-aid program, however, restored the industry to pre-war levels by 1948.

In the years before the war, Nipponese fishermen hauled an average of 9,300,000 slippery pounds of fish aboard their vessels. Almost 1,500,000 pounds, however, were caught in areas now controlled by Russia. A recent decrease in sardine and herring runs works still another hardship on the one million Japanese exploiting the deep.

One solution seems to be in increasing the yield in the authorized fishing area. SCAP-directed whaling expeditions have boosted the productive yield per blue whale from 18 to 43 tons. Another is to give the fishermen more incentive. A step toward this has been the revision of feudalistic laws governing the industry and the formation of free cooperatives.

Japan's biggest hope for topping prewar production lies in the removal of restrictions on the SCAP-authorized fishing area shown above. In September, 1949, the area was extended east to the international date line (left), indicating that the Japanese have at last corrected those abuses which led neighboring nations to cry "Pirate!"

An activities program is being organized this week by teachers and will be in full swing soon, providing time for band and choir assemblies, guidance, yearbook and school newspaper, student council, cheerleading.

Classes will be dismissed at noon Friday, so that students may attend the Community Fair, but a full working schedule will be inaugurated next Monday morning.

HOW EAST WEST PRODUCTION COMPARES

As East-West tension continues, both sides seek to increase production of vital materials needed for both war and civilian consumption. Above Newschart shows how the U. S. and Britain dwarfed their eastern adversary, Soviet Russia, in the per capita production of basic materials during 1950. Population figures for the nations are: U. S., 150,997,361; Britain, 50,519,000; and U.S.S.R., 193,000,000.

Beavers Are After Repeat Win Over Warren in Season Opener

The invasion of Corry tomorrow night by the Warren High Dragons not only marks the initial scrap of the 1951 season for the local grid team, but it will also be the first meeting for both teams in the newly organized District 10 Section 2 Football Conference.

Last year the Beavers, under Coach Lou Hanna, who was then in his third season at the school, edged the Blue and White 14-7. It was Corry's first victory over one of Coach J. B. Leidig's teams in 36 years, and the Hannanmen have no intentions of stopping now.

The lineup for the Blue and White will be similar to that of Monday's intra-squad game, with Dave Berdine and Dick Heggerty on the ends, Ben Pastrick and Gerardi at the tackles, Ed Johnson and Sam Pascuzzi guards, and Chuck Conaway in the center position.

Backfield starters will include three returnees, George Scalis, quarterback; Toby Shea, fullback; Dean Vesting, left halfback; with Ed Frontera taking up the other position opposite Vesting at right half.

Coach Leidig announced that tickets for the game are now on sale at the principal's office at the high school. The price of admission is 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for students.

Game time will be 8:30 o'clock at Loveland Field.

Big Program Is Being Planned For Annual Field Days at Irvine

A two-day program chock full of entertainment for Mom and Pop and all the kids will highlight Warren Field and Stream Club's annual Field Days, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, September 15 and 16, at Wilder Field, Irvine.

This annual event, which customarily draws a turnout of between 7,000 and 8,000 persons, is open to the public. No admission is charged, parking is free, and there are many exhibits.

Musical will be a big feature on this year's program. On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Warren High School Dragon Band, under the direction of Harry Summers, will present a drill and a concert.

On Sunday afternoon starting at 1:30 o'clock and each hour thereafter, the Heather Highlanders, a girls' pipe band from Youngstown, Ohio, will present music and drills.

Area High School Grid Squads To Open Season This Weekend

In addition to pairing two old-time rivals, the Warren-Corry football clash at Corry Friday night will mark the inauguration of a new grid conference.

The league is P.I.A.A. District 10, Section 2, and is patterned along the same lines as the Section 2 basketball conference.

Another conference game booked for Friday in addition to the Dragon-Beaver scrap will pair Oil City against Titusville at Titusville.

Franklin and Meadville, the other two schools in the conference, are listed for independent action for their openers. Franklin travels to Hickory, while Meadville will be at home against Conneaut Valley. Both scraps are slated for Friday night.

Three other Warren county high school teams also pry the lids off their 1951 seasons this coming weekend.

Youngsville opens with a night game Friday at North East; Sheffield invades Union City Saturday afternoon; and Sugar Grove-Farmington meets Saegertown under the lights at Saegertown Saturday night.

Other games in the district Friday and Saturday include:

FRIDAY NIGHT
Beaver Falls at Erie Prep.
Erie Vincent at Harbor Creek.
Erie East at Millersburg.
Erie Academy at New Castle.
Ellwood City at Bradford.
Girard at Zelienople.
Fairview at Albion.
Edinboro at Cambridge Springs.
Kane at Ridgway.
St. Marys at Johnsbury.

SATURDAY

Announce Team Rosters For All-Star Battle Saturday

Coach Nick Creola today announced the junior squad that has been selected to oppose the Jefferson County All-Stars in a baseball scrap to be played Saturday afternoon at the State Hospital as a feature of the big sports program arranged by the Warren Kiwanis Club to raise funds for crippled children's work.

The local squad is comprised of players from the Sunset League who are 20 years of age or under. Moundsmen are Carl Falvo of Florida Co.; Dick Smith and Dick Baker of Hammond Iron; and Jim Sigworth of Suppa Studebakers. Sigworth also will be available for duty at third base, as will Don Baldensperger of Hammond Iron, and Nonny Castagnino of the Sons of Italy.

Rounding out the infield will be Bob Foley, of Florida Co. at first; Gail Frank of Suppas and Carmen Colosimo of Florida Co. for duty at second; and Chuck Reese of Hammonds and Sid Cummings of Florida for shortstop.

Receivers will include Gerald Gray of Florida Co., and Jack White of Hammonds.

Chosen for duty in the outfield are John Berardi of Florida, Fran Griffin of Hammond Iron, Norman Hight of Suppas, and Bob Beckinbaugh of Florida.

The Jefferson County All-Stars will bring an experienced mound trio here that is expected to give that squad the edge in Saturday's clash. They are Ted Felix of the Adrian nine in the Jefferson County League; his brother, Pat, who pitched for DuBois; and Larry DeChurch of Sykesville.

Others on the All-Star squad will include:

First base—Bill (Lefty) Yorko,

FAMOUS BOWLER COMING HERE—Joe Wilman, of Chicago, one of bowling's all-time greats, will come to Warren on Thursday, September 13, to give an afternoon and an evening demonstration of one of the tenpin game's newest developments. Wilman will give interesting highlights on the Brunswick Rangefinder, a device which enables the average knacker to "spot bowl" in the same exact manner as the experts. These Rangefinders have been installed at both the Penn Bowling Center and the Arcade alleys. The exhibition will be given at the Penn lanes, and no admission will be charged. Joe has won three ABC titles, and has a 10-year average for ABC competition of 206.62.

S-P-O-R-T-S-O-R-I-A-L-S

(By Joe Gardner)

The Kochs girls softball team of Dunkirk is coached and managed by Joe Hennessy. "Joe" has what probably is one of the best attractions in softball on his club in the catching department. Luella Baker not only cares for the backstopping chores for the Kochs, but also catches for a semi-professional baseball club in Dunkirk. Shades of the Dunkirk Alcos—many of those old-timers would shake their heads in dismay if they could look down and see a girl behind the platter. Imagine having to listen to the chatter of a woman catcher—wonder just what she would say. In Barbara Summerly Coach "Joe" Hennessy has a girl Lou Gehrig. This young woman has a contract with her club and collects a bounty on home runs. She is a long ball hitter with a stance at the plate reminiscent of the immortal "Lou Gehrig". The star pitcher of the Kochs is Betty Burke who, no doubt, will hook up in pitching duel with Doreen Forslund here next Saturday. Miss Burke has two no hit no run games to her credit so far this year, and is given much of the credit for keeping her club supreme and undefeated in Chautauqua County. The Dunkirk girl who steals the entire show is diminutive four foot nine inch Jane Hennessy. This fifteen year old lassie is one of the most remarkable ball hawks ever to come from the Lake City. She is the midwife of the club and handles herself on the field like a major leaguer. The Dunkirk lassies placed third in the regional playoffs held recently in Buffalo, thus attaining national stature in girls' softball, and assuring Warren fans of their ability to give the Holling Press Debs a bangup ball game. Recently many Warren people were fortunate to get a preview of the Holling Press Debs over their television sets. This action took place during the recent playoffs for the championship of the eastern United States at Buffalo, N. Y.

Cleveland Inches Into First Place In American Race

By The Associated Press

Al Rosen and Luke Easter, Cleveland's classy one-two punch, are using their big bats to deflate the theory that the Indians are a "no hit, good pitch" club.

Rosen and Easter were the big guns last night as the Indians defeated the Detroit Tigers, 5-2, and regained first place in the American League. Each walloped a home run with a man on base to help the Tribe rack up its 16th victory in 17 meetings with Detroit.

The Indians wrestled the lead from the New York Yankees, who dropped a 4-3 decision to the visiting Boston Red Sox. The triumph moved the third place Sox to within three games of the defending champions and left them four behind Cleveland. Boston trails the Tribe by only one in the important "lost" column.

New York's Giants refuse to give up their fight to overhaul the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers. A sweep of a doubleheader from Boston, 3-2 and 9-1, enabled them to cut Brooklyn's lead to five and a half games. The Dodgers whipped the Philadelphia Phils, 5-2.

Philadelphia's Athletics took two from Washington, 4-1 and 9-7; Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh, 6-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs split. The Cubs won the opener, 3-2, in 11 innings and the Cards grabbed the nightcap, 6-5.

The homers by Rosen and Easter were all Cleveland's Earl Wynn needed to register his 17th triumph against 12 losses. The right-hander surrendered only four hits. Dick Kryhoski batted in both Detroit runs with a homer and single.

Olean and Hornell moved out ahead in the opening playoff games in the PONY League last night.

The Oilers came up with five runs in the last of the ninth to edge fourth-place Hamilton, 10-9. And Hornell defeated second-place Jamestown, 7-4.

Both teams lead the best of seven semi-final playoffs, 1-0.

The pennant winning Oilers paraded 10 batters in the ninth to overcome a four-run Hamilton lead. Bill Hudasek and relief pitcher Jim Anderson paced the attack. Hudasek hit a three-run homer and Anderson drove in the winning run.

At Jamestown, Doug Gostlin kept the Falcons in check by spacing nine hits. He was given a three-run cushion in the seventh when Hornell scored three runs after two were out. Gostlin, himself, drove in two of those runs with a single.

OUTCAST OF DESTINY

PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 24

DESPITE their diligent search they didn't get him. They looked on the barn roof and saw the jumble of disarranged boards and nothing more. Brent spent the night there and all of the next day. It was not a hot day but he suffered from lack of water. With the coming of night he ventured into the barn and presently Bub came with something to eat.

"Biff wasn't the man I'm looking for," he told Bub. "It's narrowed down to Jack Roselle and Cliff Durham. I've got to check on them as soon as I can."

"Don't you go stirrin' out this barn for some days to come. They're a bounty of five hundred dollars on your hide and that's gonna keep men lookin'. You lay low. Stay on the roof in the daytime and if you bunk in the loft have a rope handy so's you can get out the window if you have to."

So Brent went back to the roof before dawn and lay there chafing the entire day. When darkness fell once more he descended to the loft and presently heard the whistled strains of O. Suzanna as Bub fetched his supper. Bub was silent while he ate and Brent asked when he had finished. "Anything new? You're as gloomy as an undertaker."

"Yeah, they's somethin' new. I been debatin' whether or not to tell you, but now you've asked, you got it: Judy's gone."

"Good gosh! Gone! Where?"

"Nobody knows. She did her number at the Palace last night and right afterwards she went out through the side door and Lil thought she'd gone to the room to get somethin'. She didn't come back and Lil went up to look for her. She wasn't in the room. They hunted all over town for her but couldn't find her."

"Did she take anything with her—food or clothes?"

"Nary a thing."

"I'm going to look for her."

"Now wait a minute. Set down and do some fagin'." She wouldn't leave him without sayin' somethin' to Lil or gettin' word to you. I'm bettin' somebody sent her a message tellin' her she could see you if she snuck away without anybody followin' her. When she showed up they snatched her and are holdin' her."

"But why? Who'd want to hold her?"

"Reckon you can figger that out if you take a little time. This yere big boss, whoever he is, wants you so bad it hurts. You're the closest one of the bunch and the only chance he got is to draw you out into the open; so he snatched Judy knowin' you'll come hell-bent-a-lookin' fer her."

"Which is just what I'm going to do. When I find the man who's holdin' her I'll find the man I've been looking for. Skip up to the Palace and spot Cliff Durham for me."

Bub sighed. "I was afeared of that. You're gonna bust things wide open and wind up a corpse. Whadda you want to play right into his hands fer?"

"Because I've got to," said Brent fiercely. "Suppose I stay in hidin', he can't set her free. He'll have to get rid of her because if he don't she can tell who held her and I'd know he was my man."

Bub went to the Palace. Brent dressed in the black robe and descended the ladder. He saddled his horse and the mare he had bought for Judy, for it was almost a certainty that they would have to run for it before the thing was over. She must not remain in hidin'; regardless of his private feud he'd take her away if he found her. If he found her if he found her alive!

He was waiting impatiently when Bub returned. "Cliff ain't in the Palace and I don't know where he is. Seems like they ain't nobody up there, but they's plenty fellers 'sneakin' around in the alleys."

"Thanks, Bub. You keep in the clear."

"I wanta help."

"You can help better by stayin' out of this. If they jump me and I have to run for it I'll need you here in town to keep me posted."

Bub sighed. "All right, but I like it better if I was with you."

BRENT headed for Jack Roselle's house. He did not forget his caution; as a matter of fact he leaned backwards to remain unselected, knowing that Judy's safety and perhaps her life depended upon his not being captured. He advanced literally a step at a time and the slightest sound sent him to cover.

He saw men, more men than one usually saw on the streets after dark. Often they just stood in shadowy places waiting and watching. He circled Jack's house and spotted no less than three guards posted at various points. He reached the house by crawling like a slowly moving snake, erected himself under a window on the dark side of the building and found the window slightly raised for ventilation. He lifted the sash an inch at a time until he could squirm through the opening.

Inside, he crouched, straining his ears. There was no sound. He felt his way about the room, examining with his fingers every article of furniture. There was a couch but no bound and gagged Judy was on it. When he was satisfied that she was not in that room he moved to another one.

Room by room he went through the house, downstairs and up. A light of any kind was out of the question; he had to do his searching by the sense of touch; but when he had finished he knew Judy was not in Jack's house. He left the door of the room he was in ajar and slipped carefully from inside before he left. He passed a guard that he might have run squarely into had not the light of the fellow's cigarette marked his position.

He knew where it was, a fairly respectable log cabin at the far end of town. It was a perilous trip to make and he used the main street rather than an alley because they would have posted a guard of their own in the rear of buildings. The street was quiet dark except for patches of light filtering from windows and these he avoided by taking the middle of the road. The thick dust muffled his footsteps.

"Cliff's cabin," Cliff's cabin. It was dark and deserted looking and he could not spot a single watcher. This in itself was significant and the hair at the back of his neck prickled as he inched towards the door. A strange premonition of danger gripped him; this was too easy. He halted at the door and turned to peer about in every direction. He saw nothing, heard no sound.

He faced the door again, found the latch and gripped it firmly. It was a thumb latch and it gave under pressure. Brent took a deep breath then pushed the door open. He saw nothing but a black void but knowledge that his form would be limned against the lighter darkness outside caused him to crouch.

And so he did so a gun blazed and a bullet tore through the black robe and the hat beneath it.
